LOCAL BREVITIES.

At the late election, three Smiths were elected to Congress from Michigan.

The new Governor of Kansas, Harvey Stanley, is a Hardin county boy.

Attorney Hugh Newell sold 25 yearling ewes, yesterday to an Indiana man for $200.

There have been no new cases of smallpox in the west part of the county for two weeks.

Albert Cox, aged 36, committed suicide in Urbana, Saturday, on account of ill health.

Mr. James S. Fulton has been re-elected janitor of the court house for another term of six months.

G. W. Kaylor and Frank Vogler have rented a room on North Main street and will open a restaurant.

Marquis Hardware Co.'s stock is being inventoried preparatory to being turned over to Osborn & Churchill.

The work of cleaning out the Shoemaker ditch will be sold at the Court House next Saturday, at 10:00 o'clock.

There were no deaths made in our tin road, Sunday night, by the falling stars. Perhaps they were kept off, like the frost, by the mantle of clouds above us.

A Lima company has leased 1,500 acres of land near Quincy to bore for oil. They will sink two wells at once. Harry Miller's well is yielding 30 barrels a day.

Mrs. Henry Horn fell down stairs Friday evening, and broke one of the bones of her forearm, near the wrist. The heel of her shoe caught, throwing her.

The Republican majority in Logan county, at the recent election, was only 56 less than the majority of Bushnell last year; but Kinney's was 159 less, and Lybrand's 758 less.

Fred Campbell writes from Chicago that the boys of his regiment have fastened up so, in their sixty days' furlough, that he didn't recognize some of them.

Dr. Charles Lukens of West Mansfield, is in Philadelphia, taking a post-graduate course in the Polyclinic College—studying general medicine and surgery, especially the eye.

The newspaper astronomers told us that we could see showers of stars between midnight and daylight, this morning, if we would jump out of bed to see the show. How many did you see?

There were fully 4,000 votes not cast in Logan county, at the late election. The Democratic and Republican vote fell off 3,607 from the vote of 1896. Only two-thirds of the vote cast in 1896, was out at the late election.

Harry Carter and George Morris were fined $5 and costs, Friday, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. While intoxicated they had a regular fistfight, without any distinction on account of color or previous condition of servitude.

Having lost our fire department, house, and, later, our steam fire engine, by fire, we would suggest to our authorities that it would be in order to get the men of the department vaccinated against fire, if they don't want to lose the whole thing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Townsend, parents of the editor's better-half, after a few days' stay here, left Friday for Bellefontaine, O., where they will reside permanently. Their son, Will, remains here at present engaged in "sticking" type in the Mirror office.—Perry (Kansas) Mirror.

Warren Cushman has completed a large monument for his parents in the Woodstock cemetery. Mr. Cushman is an artist and sculptor of more than ordinary ability, and has now completed the monument after years of hard labor on this fine piece of work.—Urbana Tribune.

Mr. John Montgomery of Newark, O., presided two very able sermons at the First Presbyterian church last Sabbath. His reception after service was almost an ovation, having so many acquaintances among his hearers. Mr. Montgomery was at one time superintendent of the schools in Belle Centre.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Will McKee, is home from Ann Arbor.

Dr. G. W. Hamilton went to Dayton yesterday.

Mr. W. R. Sage, of Oberlin who has just been through the small pox, is able to be out again, and three women who were quarantined because they were in the house when the disease was declared small pox, have shown no signs whatever, of "catching it."

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Mission Band of the Lutheran church will hold their annual thank offering exercises Thursday evening at the church, instead of the regular prayer meeting.

Small-pox has broken out at Hamilton, Ohio, and it is feared it will be epidemic, as the children who had it, have been attending school. It was called Spanish measles, and was taken to Dayton by a woman and her children from Marysville.

Roosters are scarce these days—especially since the election. We bought a thoroughbred Plymouth Rock, Saturday, and never got a sight of him. He was turned in among his speckled sisters in the chicken yard, but when we went to look at him, not a feather could be seen. Perhaps the old dames of the flock didn't want any "young man from the country," in their family and gave him a ticket of leave. Or perhaps he had heard that a rooster wasn't allowed to crow any more, in Bellefontaine, and "he flew de coop." Anyhow he is gone, and the next rooster we get will be a picked one.

W. R. C.—Special.

It is desired that every member of this organization be present at the meeting this afternoon, that all arrangements be made for Thanksgiving, likewise for the Convention which will soon be with us. ESTELLE CAMPBELL, Pres't W. R. C.

Earnest Peterson Skips.

Earnest Peterson a bachelor farmer near Lake View, was under bond of $300 to appear for trial Thursday, but did not appear, and his mother and brother paid the required amount Saturday. He was charged with attempted assault on a thirteen year old girl.

Caught in the Act.

Policeman Johnston caught Liddy Ladd in the act of selling liquor Sunday, and put him in jail. On trial before Mayor Cassidy, he was found guilty, and fined $30, sentenced to ten days in jail, and to be committed to the workhouse till fine and costs are paid. The officers are to be commended, but there is other game not yet flushed.

Lucky Teachers.

Out of fifteen applicants who took the teachers' last examination the following have been given certificates: Two years—Harry Anley, Frank Gwynn, Jesse T. Nangle, W. L. C. Sturm.

One year—Eva Creviston, E. M. Croft, Gertrude Stanley, Ella M. Watkins, Henry R. Johnston, A. F. Painter.

The Poor Ye Have Always With You.

The poor of the city as far as possible, will be furnished a Thanksgiving dinner by our good people, and a committee from the W. R. C. will see that it is properly distributed. Citizens and schools will be asked for donations, to be sent to Memorial Hall the day before Thanksgiving.

Bread Cast Upon the Waters.

Mrs. C. D. Campbell received a letter's few days since from a cousin of Mr. Campbell, living in Missouri, enclosing her card which had been taken from a lunch box given by her to a Santiago soldier, who was passing through on an evening train, going home. On finding the card he recognized the name of his cousin, C. D. Campbell, but did not find it till after the train left. He returned his thanks for the fine lunch but regretted that they had not made, each other's acquaintance.

Mr. A. H. Runyon, a prominent and respected citizen of DeGraff, was buried last week, in DeGraff, where he had lived since 1893. He served nearly three years in the Union Army, and had been a member of the Presbyterian church for 53 years. He was 71 years old. The G. A. R. and Masonic Lodge attended the funeral in a body.

Auditor O. D. Campbell receives letters daily from Mrs. Campbell, who is in Knoxville, giving daily reports from her son, Adjutant Edward K. Campbell, who is ill of typhoid fever at Camp Poland. He is holding his own, with some little improvement, and it is believed that with his good constitution, and temperate and correct life he will recover.

Faith Cure.

As announced, Rev. S. S. Adams, preached a sermon last Sunday evening, on the subject of "Divine Healing or Faith Cure."

He took the position that the time of miracles has passed; that there is now no need of miracles; that when miracles were wrought by the prophets, Christ and his apostles, it was because of the lack of faith, in order to produce undoubted evidence of God's truth and authority; that physical disease, if cured, must be done by physical means, and spiritual disease by spiritual means; that all cures now, that are strange and difficult to explain, are in accordance with some natural law of God, whether we understand that law or not; that God will not reverse or set aside his natural general laws in order to do an otherwise impossible thing, even though good and pious people should pray for it. As an illustration he referred to that grand and good man, President Garfield, who received a mortal wound from an assassin's bullet, and for whom many thousands of prayers were offered by the very best of pious Christian people. Yet Garfield died because the wound was a mortal wound.

The sermon was learned, logical and Scriptural.

The D. & L. N.

Announces excursion rates for Thanksgiving.

Tickets on sale the day their school closes, and good returning until the last day of their vacation. This information to be given by their principal.

Memorial Services.

The local Salvation Army corps will hold memorial services in the basement of the Baptist church, Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Caleb Clarke, who died at Mattoon, Ill., last week, and was buried in the West Liberty cemetery Sunday afternoon. She was a Christian woman and will be greatly missed. She leaves a husband, and two children whom she had taken to care for as her own. She was a prominent member of the Salvation Army of this city.

King's Daughters Propose.

At a meeting of the City Council last week Mr. Chandler presented the offer made by the King's Daughters in which they offer to pay bills for work done on the streets. Their offer is to this effect: Unemployed men whose families need to be helped, will be given work on the streets, and Street Commissioner Stover will O. K. the bills and the King's Daughters will furnish groceries for that amount. It is a good work, and of course the proposition was accepted and the motion passed unanimously.

Death of Mrs. John Cost.

Mrs. John P. Cost died yesterday morning at 2:00 o'clock, of liver and liver trouble. She had been ill for about five years.

Mrs. Cost was born November 15, 1840, in Montgomery county, and lived, until her marriage with Mr. Cost, in that county. In 1870, she was married and came to Bellefontaine, where her whole married life was spent. She was a member of the Evangelical Lutheran church, and was a loving and faithful wife and mother. She leaves a husband, two sons and one daughter to mourn their great loss.

The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. S. R. Adams at the family residence, Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Cases Against Three County Officials Compromised.

On Friday, the Board of Commissioners settled three of the cases against county officers for fees illegally drawn. The settlement was on the basis of the finding of the jury in the case of the County vs. Commissioner Higgins, with costs added.

The settlement was made with Commissioners Smith and McClure and Sheriff Sullivan. They return 60 percent of the fees so collected, the aggregate amounting to $2,495.95.

The case of Mr. Higgins will be carried to the Supreme Court, where the questions at issue will be finally adjudicated.

Lima Protests.

The people of Lima are up in arms because Attorney-General Monnett is bringing an action to make the Standard Oil Company pay taxes on its pipe lines and other property in this State. A public meeting has been held, and the newspapers say this movement of Attorney Gen. Monnett will greatly cripple Lima, upon whose life these magnates freely pour their money—for value received. Well, we wish Lima nothing but good fortune; but we don't see why the rich corporations should be excused from paying their taxes just to help Lima. We have neither oil wells nor the Standard to help us, but we pay our taxes right along.

THE FATES AGAINST HIM!

Rapp Escapes Again, and Runs Into the Arms of an Officer.

Wm. Rapp, the hobo has had bad luck all around. On the night of the eighth of October, he entered the house of John Neer, with another hobo, and within an hour they were arrested by our officers. On the 20th of October, Rapp, with his partner, escaped from the Deputy Sheriff, while on the way from the court room to the jail, but was brought down by a shot from the Deputy's revolver, while his partner made good his escape. Owing to his wound, Rapp was put in the woman's cell, and Harry Roof employed for his nurse, and Friday night between one and two o'clock he again made his escape, only to be caught before he got out of town, and brought back to jail within half an hour.

He went to bed as usual in the evening, and his nurse having no idea that his prisoner would attempt to escape in his wounded condition, also dropped off asleep. But Rapp was only posing, and between one and two o'clock in the morning, he quietly got out of bed, put on his trousers, and slipped down stairs. In the Sheriff's office he found Ed's, overcoat, and the Sheriff's hat and shoes, and putting these on, he opened the side door, and bade adieu to the old bastille. Avoiding the well lighted public square, he went down Madison till he got to Auburn, and then turned west for the railroad. But his bad luck stuck to him, and at the crossing of Auburn and Main, he ran onto Police-man Humphrey, who arrested him. Rapp pretended that he was only a stranger passing through town, but Humphrey had arrested him when he first sent to jail, and he couldn't be fooled, and marches William back to the jail. There he found all peace and quiet. Harry was dreaming of the rain upon the roof, and the prisoner had not been missed.

What Persuaded Him.

A very able and eloquent address on life insurance recently made by Judge M. B. Koon, of Minneapolis, was concluded in the following striking statement of facts:

"I confess to as bitter a prejudice against life insurance and life insurance solicitors for many years, and to as sublime and perfect confidence in my own ability to acquire and manage and invest my acquisitions in my own way, and according to my own judgment, and to support and to provide for the future support of my own family after my own ideas, and in my own method, as any man possibly could have. I avoided the life insurance solicitor as I would malaria, pestilence, a book agent, a lightning rod peddler, or any other similar nuisance; refused to study or to be enlightened concerning the principles or the practical operations of the subject. But ripening years, wider experience and observation, less confidence in my own wisdom and more faith in the accumulated wisdom and experience of others led me to a radical change, not only of theory, but of practice, and to the adoption of the views and opinions I have stated. For more than twenty-five years I have been engaged in the active practice of a profession which has necessarily given reliable knowledge of the private business affairs of many people, during which time I have known so many cases of failure in business, reverses of fortune, with old age, poverty and distress following closely in the wake, and especially during the past ten years have seen so many fortunes melt away like the morning dew; so many unforeseen and unpreventable changes in circumstances from afluence to poverty; many families left destitute, or dependent for support only upon charity, the generosity of friends, or their own manual labor, and have also seen and personally known of so many instances where the shattered fortune has been repaired or replaced, old age made comfortable and happy, poverty and distress banished, and the sunshine and happiness which come from the possession of a comfortable income, brought through the gloom of a destitute and stricken family, bringing comfort and joy, by means alone of a reasonable amount of well placed life insurance, that I have become a firm believer in the wisdom of it as a business principle, and in the salutary practical good which it accomplishes."

Barberous Work.

The barbering that is barbarous, is that which is done with dull tools in unskilled hands, but when it is done by skilled workmen, with the finest of tools while it is barberous, it is anything but barbarous. So when you want a hair cut or a shave that will be done so comfortably that you will be sorry it is ended, come to Payne's Parlors under the People's Bank.

WONDERFUL WORK.

I make this statement for the sole purpose of letting others know what wonderful work Aerial Medication does. I was deaf for ten years; could not hear a clock tick when held close to my ears, and had catarrh so badly that I thought I could never be cured. There was a very bad discharge from my ears, nostrils were very sore, the discharge had a very disagreeable odor, and the noises in my head were very distressing. I read in the papers of the wonderful cures that were being effected by the use of Aerial Medication, and I decided to try it. I used the treatment about six weeks before I could hear any better, but from that time on I improved, and now can hear as good as any one. Can go in company and enjoy myself like others. Am cured of catarrh, and the roaring in my head has ceased. Am now strong and healthy; have not used the treatment for some time, and believe that I am permanently cured. MISS EDNA CHAYTON, Cogan House, Pa.

FREE.

For a short time only I agree to send to sufferers from catarrh, deafness, throat and lung diseases, medicines for three months' treatment, free. This will prove that Aerial Medication cures. For symptom form and particulars address
